On MONDAY, July 23 (note day change) we will be in for a real treat.

Al Sieg has been working on his Japanese garden for eight years and it is spectacular. This unique garden has been written about in the D&C Newspaper and also the Journal of Japanese Gardening. There are seven different areas of the Japanese garden including a garden without water highlight.

Al Sieg is a leader of the Photographic Society of America and lived for many years in Japan. When he returned to Rochester he grew azaleas and rhododendrons and his love of Japanese gardens grew to include these plants. Don't miss your opportunity to experience Al Sieg's "Garden of Tranquility", on MONDAY, July 23 at 7:00 pm. His garden is off Lake Shore Blvd, just west of Durand Eastman Park in Irodequoit.

June Highlights

Over 50 members and guests enjoyed Jake DeSilva's excellent presentation on shohin bonsai. He provided a stimulating program detailing his eight years in Japan and studying shohin bonsai with several bonsai masters. Additionally, considerable information on how to display shohin bonsai was discussed.

Members brought in a large number of fine-quality shohin bonsai. In fact, more than in some entire exhibitions around the country! After Bill Valavanis briefly talked about each specimen, Jake proceeded to create a shohin bonsai display.
